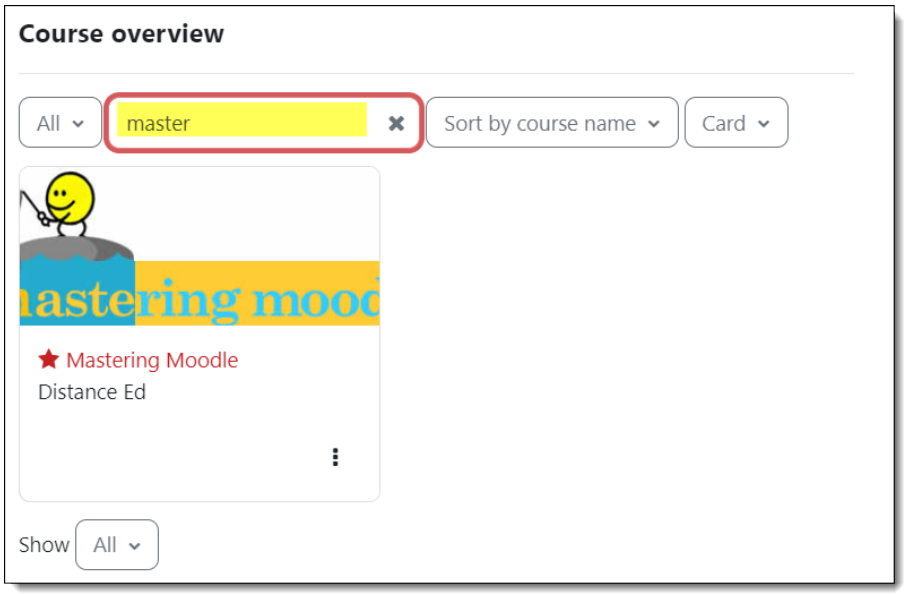
Faculty: Find a Missing Course

Hart Wilson - 2025-12-02 - Comments (0) - Faculty

The easiest place to find courses is in the My courses list in the blocks panel on the right side of your course (you may need to expand the panel in order to see it). Courses you are teaching will be listed there regardless of visibility status. Note that if you star a course in your dashboard, the star will be displayed in your course list in the block.

Courses are also found on our Home page as well as via links to our Dashboard and My courses in the top border of Moodle. On the Home page, new course shells will be located below the last course in your list that is available to students. In your Dashboard and My courses links, the Course overview section has a Search field where you can enter a course name or CRN and bring up a link to the course. Note that even courses that you have removed from view will appear in the search results.



Quick Tip: You can bookmark your dashboard or any main page of a Moodle course for quick reference! If you are not already logged into Moodle when you click on the bookmarked link, be sure to scroll down to the SOU

Account Login link at the bottom of the log-in page.

Link to what to do if courses are missing.

Learn more about course start and end dates.

Get to know your dashboard.