

Faculty: Display Folder Contents on Course Page

If you use "folders" to share multiple files with your students, it is now possible to choose between offering students a link to all files (Display folder contents: On a separate page), as we are accustomed to doing, or having all of the files displayed on your course home page (Display folder contents: Inline on a course page).

If you choose to Show sub-folders expanded, sub-folders will be displayed as well as the parent folder.
