Hart Wilson - 2018-01-16 - Comments (0) - Faculty

When you create a graded activity, you can designate a passing score in the Grade options area.

The screenshot shows the 'Grade' settings form in Moodle. The 'Grade to pass' field is highlighted in yellow. The form includes the following options:

- Grade: Type (Point), Scale (BTEC), Maximum points (100)
- Grading method: Simple direct grading
- Grade category: Not categorized
- Grade to pass: (highlighted in yellow)
- Blind grading: No

You can take advantage of this feature in three ways:

Completion tracking—if you set completion tracking conditions for the item, you can require a passing score in order for it to be displayed as completed by the student.

Grade display—grades below the passing score will be displayed in the instructor's gradebook in red, while those above will be displayed in green. (All grades are displayed in black in students gradebooks.)

Last name	First name	Assignment
	Student4 Four	82.00
	Student1 One	58.00
	Student3 Three	75.00
	Student2 Two	85.00
Overall average		75.00

Restrict access—release an activity or resource based on students having achieved a passing score on a prior graded activity.
