

Faculty: Time Release Announcements and Forum Posts

Have you ever wanted to time release announcements and forum posts that you draft in advance? Now you can!

As you create a post for future release, click on Advanced, then open the Display period options to set the initial date to release the post. Be sure to:

- Update the year if you're working in the fall on posts for a Winter term course.
- Avoid setting a closing date — "now you see it, now you don't" can be very confusing.
