

Faculty: Use the Journal Activity

Hart Wilson - 2018-08-20 - Comments (0) - Faculty

The Journal activity is making a comeback! Once part of our installation, this unique online text assignment is available to us again in our new installation.

This activity allows students to continue to add to an online text assignment over time. Points are recorded just once, but instructor feedback can be entered as often as you like in response to student reflections.

When students open the link, they can enter their response.

The screenshot shows the 'Week One Journal' editor. The title is 'Week One Journal' and the question is 'How is your internship going?'. The 'Entry' field is active, showing a rich text editor with a toolbar containing options like Paragraph, Bold, Italic, Bulleted list, Numbered list, Link, Unlink, Image, and Embed. The text entered is 'I'm already learning a lot in my internship, even though it just started.....'. Below the editor is a 'Path: p » span' field and two buttons: 'Save changes' (highlighted with a red box) and 'Cancel'. At the bottom, a message states 'There are required fields in this form marked [red icon]'.

Student view after saving:

The screenshot shows the student view of the 'Week One Journal'. The title is 'Week One Journal' and the question is 'How is your internship going?'. Below the question is a button labeled 'Start or edit my journal entry'. The text 'I'm already learning a lot in my internship, even though it just started.....' is displayed. At the bottom, it says 'Last edited: Tuesday, November 7, 2017, 3:04 PM (13 words)'.

On the instructor side, this is how you access student journal submissions:

Week One Journal

How is your internship going?

Start or edit my journal entry You have not started this journal yet

Once you view submissions, you can assign grades and provide feedback:
